

6/30/24 Question For Discussion

Musical Memories

Let's talk music this week.

For many people, certain songs mark certain periods of their lives. Do you have a particular song that reminds you of their childhood? Do you have a song that makes you think of an old boyfriend or girlfriend? Do you have a song that you share with your spouse? A song that you walked down the aisle to or a song that marked your first dance as a married couple. What songs make you think of your college years or early work life? Is there a song that never fails to make you happy? Or sad?

Question: Come up with a song or two that has been important in your life – and maybe sing a few bars.
